Re: Advanced Micro Devices, Inc., et al. v. Intel Corporation, et al., C.A. No. 05-441-JJF; In re Intel Corporation, C.A. No. 05-MD-1717-JJF Letter re Motion to Compel Discovery from Glover Park (DM 36)

Dear Judge Poppiti:

During the July 29, 2009 hearing on Intel's motion to compel AMD's testimony on issues relating to the class plaintiffs' motion for class certification (DM 13b), the Court directed the parties to brief the question whether the joint prosecution agreement between AMD and the class plaintiffs should be reviewed in camera to determine if it contains any discoverable information.

While conferring on the briefing schedule for this issue, AMD informed Intel on August 11, 2009 that it would agree to an in camera review of the agreement. According to its counsel, AMD plans to submit it to the Court by the end of this week. As a result, briefing on the issue of whether the agreement should be reviewed is no longer necessary.

Please let us know if the Court has any questions relating to this issue.

Respectfully,

/s/ David E. Moore
