Re: Advanced Micro Devices, Inc., et al. v. Intel Corporation et al., C. A. No. 05-441-JJF
DM 4(A)

Dear Counsel:

As per the February 26, 2008 teleconference, I was expecting to receive a plan from Intel addressing how the in-camera documents will be copied. I have not yet received such a plan.

In light of same, I would like to receive a plan in the form of a proposed form of order addressing a broader range of issues not later than the close of business on Thursday, March 6, 2008. The proposed form of order should cover the following:

1. How the documents will be copied.
2. Once copied the Special Master will receive back all of the original bates numbered pages (original here refers to the pages reviewed by the Special Master).
3. How Intel will make the final proposed redactions. I expect this can be accomplished in one of two ways. Intel can simply make the redactions on their copy of the returned original bates numbered pages, make black and white copies of those and turn the black and white copies over to AMD and the Class Plaintiffs. Or, Intel may choose to make the redactions on clean, un-highlighted pages thereby shielding Intel's proposed redactions.
4. The redactions should be accomplished not later than the close of business on March 21, 2008.

5. If Intel has any questions about what the Special Master intended to redact and/or if Intel believes that the Special Master may have missed some redactions, these questions may be addressed on either March 24th or 25th, 2008, in an in-person, ex parte hearing on the record at either the offices of Blank Rome or at the courthouse.

If counsel has any questions in this regard, please make arrangements for a teleconference as soon as possible.

Hard copy to follow by hand delivery.

Yours very truly,

Vincent J. Poppiti
Special Master
