Re: Advanced Micro Devices, Inc. et al. v. Intel Corporation, et al.,
C.A. No. 05-441-JJF;
In re Intel Corporation Microprocessor Antitrust Litigation,
MDL No. 05-1717-JJF;
Phil Paul et al. v. Intel Corporation, C.A. No. 05-485-JJF – DM 18

Dear Counsel:

I have concluded my review of the letter briefing submitted by the parties in connection with the Motion for a Protective Order (DM 18) filed by Advanced Micro Devices and AMD International Sales & Services, Ltd. ("AMD"). Based on that review, it appears there may be some confusion about the specific information Intel Corporation ("Intel") hopes to secure through the 30(b)(6) deposition of AMD, and, indeed, it may be the case that Intel's own understanding of the information it wishes to pursue has changed. In order to resolve any ambiguity about what specific information Intel seeks, Intel is invited to restate the Deposition Topic of the 30(b)(6) deposition notice at issue should Intel wish to do so.

Intel should advise with respect to same not later than close of business, Monday, October 20, 2008. If Intel elects to restate the Deposition Topic(s), I would expect that the parties will meet and confer before the matter is submitted to me for resolution. DM 18 is therefore removed from the agenda for tomorrow's teleconference.

SO ORDERED this 15th day of October, 2008.
